Fire Damages Stock
Of Sewing Machines

Newmarket—Fire did extensive damage to the store of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. on Main St. Saturday morning. Employees have been taking stock this week and the loss through the fire has not yet been determined. James Taylor, office manager, said there was no covering insurance. Damage to the building was estimated at between one and two thousand dollars.

Several dozen damaged sewing machines were being crated and sent back to the plant on Tuesday afternoon.

The fire which is believed to have been caused by a furnace pipe dropping to the floor and igniting cardboard cartons was discovered when the store was opened at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Fire gutted the basement and stairs leading up to the store and had started on the ground floor itself. Many stored machines were badly damaged and the rest of the stock upstairs was damaged by the thick black smoke and water.

Smoke poured out of the building, upstairs and into the adjacent stores. Walter Murray's drug store received slight damage from smoke and water as did Thomas Burke's dry goods store. There was no damage to papers or documents in Mathews, Stiver, Lyons and Vale law office upstairs as reported by the dailies.

The Singer management expressed its appreciation toward Boy Scouts of the Newmarket troupe. The Scouts were gathered at their hall near the rear of the Singer store for a salvage drive when the fire started. They removed several sewing machines, furniture and equipment and kept back other children who were getting in the way of firemen.

While the Newmarket fire department was battling the blaze, a water main broke below the ground surface on the opposite side of the street.

Liberals, C.C.F.,
To Convene Here

Newmarket—With the provincial election little more than six weeks away, two parties have chosen Newmarket for their conventions, the Liberals on Saturday, May 1, and the C.C.F. on the following Saturday. The Progressive - Conservatives are meeting tonight to choose time and place.

Hon. Farquhar Oliver, leader of the Liberal party in Ontario, will address the public meeting in the town hall at 2.30 p.m. So far, possibilities for the Liberal candidature are wide open, although it is understood that two Newmarket men, Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette and Fred S. Thompson, chairman of the Newmarket Hydro Commission, have been rumored as likely candidates. A third possibility is Peter Burt who lives in North York twp.

It is pointed out, however, that the race is wide open and there is a strong possibility of dark horses making an 11th hour bid for the position.

Three possibilities for the C.C.F. are T. A. Weaver, Richmond Hill P. A. Deacon and John Simpson, both of Downsview. Mr. Weaver is the president of the North York C.C.F. association and Mr. Deacon, an architect, is consultant to the Aurora town planning committee.

Birrell Suggests
Town 'Clean-Up'

Newmarket—A town clean-up in a couple of weeks or more was suggested by Councillor Tom Birrell Monday night. He said such a clean-up should be held twice a year, the purpose being to get the heavier refuse cleaned up all at once while people are cleaning up their yards.

An amendment to a garbage by-law as put forth by Mr. Birrell and tabled for the next meeting will limit the amount of all garbage and refuse collected to six or eight bushels from each household.

Sell Streeter House
To Frank Stevens

Newmarket—The town council accepted the highest tender for the purchase and the removal of the house known as the Streeter house on the recently appropriated memorial hall land on Park Ave. from Frank Stevens, Boleford St.

Council also granted him permission to remove a tree at the corner of Timothy and Prospect which would be in the way of moving the house. It was said the tree was dying.

Ask By-Law To License Plumbers

Newmarket—A resolution that a by-law be introduced providing for a plumbing code and a system of licensing plumbers in Newmarket was passed at the town council meeting on Monday night.

A letter was read by town engineer Denne Bosworth from Sam Dickie, Vanderhof, who has conducted a preliminary survey of plumbing in York county, asking if council favored a local plumbing inspector for the town or a general inspector for Aurora, Newmarket, Richmond Hill and Stouffville, and whether the council would meet with other centres to set fees and licenses.

Mr. Bosworth said that a general inspector would work with a plumbing code committee. A provincial plumbing code for non-urban centres is pending. Councillor Frank Bowser said that he didn't think that the area was large enough to support an inspector. The majority of members felt that setting up a code and licensing plumbers in Newmarket would protect the public and be a source of revenue for the town.

Name J. B. Topper
Legion Fund Chairman

Aurora — John B. Topper has been appointed chairman of the campaign committee of Aurora branch, Canadian Legion, building fund. Mr. Topper has been a member of the Aurora branch for two years and a resident of the Oak Ridges district for many years. The building campaign for a Legion Hall has met with a good response despite the fact that in the hope that a speedy solution for a large community centre might be found, the Legion halted their campaign. Needing quarters immediately, and keeping in mind the general expenditures that face Aurora, the Legionnaires feel that their project is one that merits full support, and that as a result of a successful campaign for their building fund they will be able to increase their services to the community and with the facilities afforded by a hall be able to give better support to the Community Memorial Centre when that program has been clarified and definite plans laid.

To Ask Tenders On Housing Project

Newmarket — Commencement of construction on low rental houses for Newmarket depends on the first move made by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, according to Mayor Vale who with Deputy-Reeve Joe Spillette and town engineer Denne Bosworth, interviewed the heads of the corporation in Ottawa recently.

The corporation will open calls for tenders for three weeks, said Mayor Vale, and when they have received a satisfactory and low enough tender, "we will call for tenders for our work, which is the construction of services. We hope to have the bulk of the houses ready for occupation this year," he said.

He said that the purpose of the Ottawa interview was to get all the details on the housing plan. "We got a clear conception of what the corporation is after, and that is, in short, to keep the cost down," he said. Rent for the houses is established on the basis of 60 cents for every $100 of the cost. A house that costs $6,000 would rent at $36 on this basis.

"I believe they are doing everything possible to get the costs low enough," said Mr. Vale.

Much depends on how low the construction tenders will be, he said, and pointed out that in low rental housing construction in the Cobourg area, costs were quite high, yet in Windsor, they were kept down at a satisfactory level.

Recent provincial legislation provides that a grant will be paid to the municipality on the cost of services for low rental housing. The province will pay one half the cost of services up to $600 per lot.

Calls for tenders will be placed shortly, said the mayor, and will be open for three weeks before one is accepted, so the town will have to wait until that business has been completed.

'Conditions Grave'
Bishop Warns

Aurora—"Present world conditions are very grave. It will only be with God's help that we can avert another world catastrophe," declared Bishop R. A. Beverley of Toronto on Sunday in Trinity Anglican church. His Lordship named "too many silly people," the lack of truth in the world, greed, and lust as the four big dangers that faced humanity. "If we were to trace back the causes of the last war it would undoubtedly be found to be based on lies, hypocrisy, and the greed of individuals."

Bishop Beverley performed the "laying on of hands ceremony" before a capacity congregation, the following candidates being confirmed: Patrick Davies, Eldred Ellis, Eric Eveleigh, Ivan Hector, David Hector, Raymond Simmons, Gerald Simmons, Donald Patrick, Frederick White, John Gilberry, Peter Gordon, William Hill, Tony Stapells, John Taylor, Harry Watson, Florence Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fobert, Mr. William Milgate, Mr. Kenneth Sabin, Mr. George Teasdale.

Bus Line Seeks
'Stops' On Main St.

Newmarket — Bus stops on Main St. for the bus line to be operated in Newmarket will be considered by a committee from council meeting with Chief Constable Burbridge so that all aspects of providing stop areas can be covered by a by-law. The Newmarket Bus Lines will start operations on Monday, May 3, according to Larry Needler and Earlby Ruthven, owners of the new line.

A motion at Monday night's council meeting to provide eight bus stop areas each 65 to 75 feet in length, in restricted parking areas on Main St. was withdrawn. Instead a committee of Councillors R. C. Morrison, B. A. Budd and Frank Bowser was named with a view of providing a covering by-law.

Mayor Vale said council would have to pass the by-law first and then it could be amended if it were not effective.

One councillor said that the introduction of eight stops 65 to 75 feet long at important corners in the Main St. business area would do away with much congestion caused by heavy parking.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Postpone Sentence On Theft Charges

Newmarket — Three charges were heard against Paul Peter Parent, 20, Nobleton, in magistrate's court on Friday. They were breaking and entering Gar-net Hoover's service station at Nobleton, stealing several hundred dollars worth of clothes from a house near Toronto, and stealing a car belonging to Elvin Kennedy, Nobleton. Magistrate Hollinrake withheld sentence until a further hearing in Toronto, April 22, when a report can be given on the accused's record. The accused pleaded guilty.

The latter charge was laid jointly against Parent and Jack Dandy. Dandy had not been arrested, in the meantime having joined the American army. Parent was already on a suspended sentence for attempted theft and was serving for breach of parole.

According to the testimony against them, Parent and Dandy went to Nobleton and stole the car belonging to Kennedy, for whom Parent had worked, and broke into the Hoover service station at Nobleton taking a quantity of cigars, cigars, candy, and flashlights valued at over $25. The two went to Toronto and hid the loot under the floor of St. Vincent, left the car at Scarborough and hitch-hiked to Buffalo, stealing the clothes from a cottage west of Toronto, owned by a Mr. Bredson, on their way. Parent said that after he had gone to the States, he was later picked up in Arizona and in the custody of the U.S. immigration authorities, was sent back to Toronto.

A Newmarket man was given a suspended sentence and put on probation for two years on a charge of obtaining unemployment insurance by false statements. The accused, who pleaded guilty, told the local employment office that he was unemployed but evidence showed that he had been working for several days during the supposed unemployed period. Magistrate Hollinrake gave a suspended sentence on the grounds that the accused was married with two children and had not applied for insurance before in unemployed periods.

Witnesses failed to give evidence that would identify John Albert Ayers, Toronto, as the driver of a car who attempted to escape liability by leaving the scene of an accident. The charge was laid against Ayers as the driver of a car that struck three persons on No. 11 highway near Bond Lake. Two cars which had sideswiped were parked on the highway and three occupants, Earl Tansley and Morris Lane, Toronto, and Mr. Bartlett were walking back to the scene of the accident when another car swerved into them. Bartlett received a broken leg and other injuries. The driver of the car stopped and said he would get a doctor but continued on. There was no evidence to show that it was Ayers. The driver had left before police arrived at the scene.

A charge against Frank Williamson, Aurora, for failing to stop after an accident, was dismissed. The other car, which was involved, was parked on Yonge St., Aurora, and was unoccupied. Magistrate Hollinrake said that the charge, taken from the Criminal Code, must involve a "vehicle in charge of any person."

Thomas Ganton, Newmarket, was fined $103.75 or 40 days for failing to file income returns from 1941 to 1944.

A careless driving charge against H. M. Bray, Barrie, was dismissed. The accused collided with a car driven by W. H. Helson, Oak Ridges, at the southern limits of Aurora on Yonge St. Magistrate Hollinrake said he was impressed by the evidence given by G. A. Helson, a passenger in the Helson car, but considering the bad weather conditions at the time of the accident, the evidence did not determine which driver was at fault. K. M. R. Stiver was counsel for defence.

Lift The Oleo Embargo — But With Care

An embargo, regardless of whom it protects, is an indefensible economic practice. The same argument that the Canadian farmer has used against price fixing and similar practices in industry are applicable with equal force against the dairy farmer's own instrument of protection, the oleomargarine embargo. But the issue of the oleomargarine embargo is not confined to the question of the rightness or wrongness of it. The oleomargarine embargo is the backbone of the Canadian dairy industry as it is at present constituted. If the embargo were removed overnight, the dairy industry would be dealt a severe blow, repercussions of which would be felt throughout Canada.

The question is not whether the embargo should go but if, in removing the embargo, will a greater wrong be committed?

Apart from the principle of it, why the insistence on the removal of the ban now? Recurring butter shortages is one reason; price is another. With no substitute for butter available, the consumer is at the mercy of the producer and distributor as to supply and the price he must pay. With the cost of his living rising steadily higher, the consumer will welcome anything which will affect a saving. Oleomargarine, at a little more than half the cost of butter, would offer much needed relief to the budget.

The dairy farmer argues that the price of butter is not out of line with other commodities as far as increases are concerned, and that butter shortages are the result of the dislocation caused by government food policies during the war which directed more milk into cheese. That may be so but the shortages persist and oleo does cost less than butter.

The lifting of the ban on oleomargarine would effect the economy of the dairy industry but it is argued that some two million industrial workers plus thousands of white collar workers on fixed salaries would benefit. In terms of numbers, the 500,000 dairy farmers who would suffer if the ban were lifted, are hopelessly outnumbered.

Against these arguments, there is the graphic description by Mr. H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, of what would happen if the embargo were lifted: "Dairy farmers, and many fair-minded people in responsible positions, genuinely fear that the introduction of margarine into our market would depress the butter industry. To what extent that would happen, no one can say positively. But when you depress the butter industry, which is the basic commodity in our dairy industry, you almost certainly depress the whole industry for the cheese producer, the milk producer who supplies city milk, and the producer of milk for concentrated products—500,000 of them across Canada."

"In Canada, we consume 360 million pounds of butter. Suppose consumers purchased one pound of margarine for every three pounds of butter (in the U.S., they purchase one pound of margarine for every two pounds of butter), a 25 percent surplus would amount to 90 million pounds. We have not attempted to produce butter for export and we have had no satisfactory export market for it."

"Consequently, a 90 million pound surplus of butter—even half of it—would be disastrous to the butter market, the butter price and butter producers. But the prices of other dairy products would similarly be undermined and depressed. In such a situation, prices of dairy products could be ruined—depressed by 25, 33 or even 50 percent. That serious decrease in purchasing power by more than half the farm families in Canada would be felt in business and industry in every city. Unquestionably it leads the way to dwindling sales, stagnation in business and employment. Conversely, Canadians know that strong and stable farm purchasing power is the best assurance for a thriving economy."

Despite Mr. Hannam's stand and the argument of those who wish the embargo removed, the issue still remains: the embargo as such is indefensible but will a greater wrong be done by its removal? The farmer, considering what a small percentage of the average consumer's income would be affected, as against the economic suffering in store for the producer by the removal of the embargo, has a strong argument in favor of keeping the embargo.

But if the argument is carried further, to a consideration of the producer's own position if the present conditions in the dairy industry are allowed to continue, his stand is less tenable. The embargo gives him protection against oleomargarine but what else? Nothing that we can see.

Butler is at present pegged at a price which the producer claims is too low. The return to the producer has never been good in proportion to his investment. Removal of the oleomargarine embargo might force a reduction in the number of producers, but if those who remained in business were able to charge more, would it not be better in the long run? As long as there is an embargo on oleomargarine, butter prices are going to be restricted. If there was a substitute, the producer could charge all the market would bear. Those unable or unwilling to pay his asking price could always purchase oleomargarine. In the long run, we believe the producer would benefit if the embargo was removed.

As long as the embargo remains, the threat of its removal will be constant. If it is not removed now, it may be removed at a time when conditions are a good deal less favorable to the farmer. At present he has to his advantage the shortage of oils and fats and Canada's poor exchange position. These points, so often cited as arguments against the removal of the embargo, are on the contrary to the advantage of the farmer in the lifting of the embargo.

Mr. Hannam is not exaggerating when he cites the dangers to the farm and the national economy that the removal includes. However, Mr. Hannam is quoting figures which take manufacture and consumption of oleomargarine at an expected normal against the present production of butter. The oil shortage precludes that level of manufacture for a good many years yet. Additional temporary protection, however, would also be needed in the form of subsidies and the development of new farm markets to take up the slack of re-adjustment in the dairy industry.

It would be the utmost folly to jettison the protection that has helped create the dairy industry without temporary protection in the interim of adjustment. If the embargo is to be lifted without these measures, it will create the conditions Mr. Hannam foresees. With government help and restricted manufacture of oleomargarine at first, the dairy industry can ride out the change. It would find itself the stronger for it.

Consult Your Chamber Of Commerce

Last week, merchants in Newmarket were canvassed by telephone for the purchase of brooms "made by the blind". The merchants who purchased the brooms were for the most part under the impression they were contributing to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. When they looked at their receipts, they found the words "Canadian Blind Industries" stamped across the top.

In last week's issue of The Era and Express, H. W. Henry, field secretary of the Institute, said that the Institute does not canvass by telephone or by salesman—their products with the trademark "Blindcraft Products" stamped on them, are marketed through trade channels.

Two merchants told the telephone canvassers that if they were properly accredited by the Chamber of Commerce, the merchants would be glad to see them. It is interesting to note that the canvassers gave no names. Appointments were made for the following day but the salesman did not appear.

The Chamber of Commerce is in a position to determine the validity of any salesman and his product. Refer canvassers to it if they are strangers, even though the cause may appear to be a worthy one.

BY GINGER

Our Heathecliffe was here! Heathecliffe, one of the many Era graduates, visited his old stomping grounds last Saturday morning and recounted some of his experiences in the hub bub of the big city.

Heathecliffe is a huckster now. He was our old reporter once. He forsook the life of a renegade fourth estate and followed the lure of lucre which took him into the advertising field. But Heathecliffe was not an unusual huckster, we think. With dignity, we hope. Heathecliffe, spreading his little ray of light, diffused in all directions, will, no doubt, cleanse and purify wherever he goes. We hope that the influence will be on the advertising business and not on Heathecliffe.

The first week Heathecliffe had at his new job with the Euphemism and Cheese-cake advertising company called for a big assignment—to sit in on an executive meeting and pick up fallen papers off the floor. One of their big five, a soap company client, Sidney Greenfeet, had the floor and was about to empty the water pitcher on the table when Heathecliffe mistook him for a quantity of refuse and stuffed him into a waste bucket. Pandemonium ensued.

Later, after a Euphemism and Cheese-cake board of directors had pondered over the effects of the incident, it was decided that Heathecliffe should get a raise. It was felt that an obnoxious customer had been removed from Euphemism and Cheese-cake. The company had been trying to shake off Greenfeet for two years.

It took our Heathecliffe to do it. Heathecliffe was so elated he outdid himself on a piece of copy for another soap company. It follows thus:

"Buy a bar of Bloomfield's; better bubbles for your britches."

"Buy two bars of Bloomfield's; bigger and better bubbles for your britches."

"Bloomfield's contains plott-unium, the new scientific discovery that keeps you from sneezing and gives dirt the business."

That's our Heathecliffe!

What a weekend, boss!

I spent one of those Bohemian weekends in the city with Chumley and the boys. We had dinner out and Chum read his most recent poetic effort. It was an ellergy, more or less, called "On the Passing of Jupiter Due to Gravity."

"A cat may look at a king," said Alice. "I've read that in some book but I don't remember where."—Lewis Carroll.

You may remember me telling you about Jupiter last week. He was our poet cousin who tried to fly off a 17-storey window sill. Chum's ellergy is not bad but hardly fit to be published unless it's done by "Tush" or one of those more interesting journals.

Well, Chum and I and some of the boys went down to the water front and played poker for fish eyes at Joe's Speakefreely. We drank canned apple juice all night and a guy named Pinhead Needles bought all the drinks. I guess I had one too many apple juices 'cause I didn't remember a thing after four o'clock.

The only thing I can remember all night was the boys singing "Her eyes were like limpid dried up pools and her teeth like a pair of pearls" and they laid out Chumley on the ironing board.

It was high noon when I came to, boss. For a minute I didn't know where I was. It was sort of dark and I could smell tar, hear the gentle lapping of water and my feet felt damp. When I pulled myself together and pried my eyes open I looked down at my feet which were slopping at water's edge. I was under a wharf lying on a pile of garbage and in a pretty low condition.

Pretty ignominious climax for a weekend, eh boss. I met Chumley at Mabel's coffee shop that afternoon and he told me that he woke up at the bottom of a laundry chute. He had contacted some of the boys who had discovered that this Pinhead Needles was a pick-pocket. The boys caught him in the act during our sing-song and later gave him their treatment. He was eventually loaded into the bowels of a sand-sucker from which he was no doubt dumped into Lake Ontario.

YOUR WEEKLY SMILE

He went boldly up to the box-office of the big theatre.

"Have you three seats in the front row for the performance tonight?" he blandly asked.

"Yes," replied the girl behind the grille, with unconcealed eagerness.

He smiled pleasantly at her.

"In that case I don't want them," he replied; "the show can't be much good."

Once bitten: From the Chesley, Ont., Enterprise:

An applicant for a civil service position wrote this on her application form: "I was principal of a two-room school and taught all the subjects in the four upper grades. I also fixed the furnace, swept the floor, fixed the fences, carried the water and washed the windows. It was a very intellectual undertaking, and the main thing I learned was never to do it again."

Here and there: The Kamboops Sentinel remarks the annual Bull Show banquet was unique; no speeches. 18 pullets belonging to Mrs. Clark Silver at Bridgewater, N.S., laid 355 eggs in February. A Port Alberni, B.C., man, Ron Hansen, at 31 years is the youngest R.C.M.P. inspector, now stationed at Ottawa. There were three Leap Year babies born at the Prince George, B.C., hospital. At Huntsville, Ont., at a high school commencement, five of six oratory winners were girls; grumbled audibly a husband, "The weaker sex is getting out of hand. They're now the speaker sex."

Spring Brings Phony Salesmen

As regular as the return of the robin, the warning weather will shortly see the "big town slicker" on his rounds through rural Ontario with a bag full of new tricks to cheat the small town merchant and householder out of his hard earned dollars.

In this, and subsequent articles, The Era and Express will describe some of the more common practices of the confidence men. This week, the advertising salesman.

The variations employed in this type of confidence game are endless with new methods making their appearance each year. The most common trick is the sale of advertising space in programs, generally for athletic events, the proceeds of which are to be used "to buy uniforms and equipment for the boys."

To ask a merchant to be wise to all the angles is to ask the impossible, but he can follow a few simple rules to determine the value he is going to receive for his contribution.

In the first place, don't advertise in a medium about which you know nothing. If it is a magazine, or newspaper, defer your order until you can check on its circulation, the frequency it is printed, the market it covers. There is no point to advertising in a paper, for example, which is circulated in Toronto. Your sales message may be most appealing but not many people

ONCE TO EVERY PARENT... What is that sound which rings through the house, Startling the sleepers and scaring the mouse? Hark! Hear it again! What an awful whoop! To your feet, my good wife, the kids have the croup. Fill up the kettle and speed it to boil. While we rub their chests with menthol oil. Hear them breathe easy as the steam rises higher. As we give thanks to the Balsam of Friar.

Noting that the press records the history of a gentleman who in 66 years never had a bath—he claimed it shortened life—he forwarded the information to our correspondent in Hoots, county of Yawk, with the suggestion that he interview the residents as to their opinions on the man's belief. The question was: "Do you believe that baths shorten life?" We record, with some regret, the answers below:

Elmer Bumptwistle: "What's a bath?" Hiram Umpydum: "Eh, what's that? A bath you say. Sure, I've had a bath. Had one in January—let me see, now. That was January, '09. Do I think baths shorten your life? Shucks no, son. Effected my hearing a bit but I'm still in there kicking. Yessiree, bub."

Mrs. Lulu Q. Bobtail: "Oh how nice of you to ask me. Now let me think. Oh dear. Is this really going into the paper? Oh I am so thrilled. Are you sure you have my name right. I'll spell it for you, L-U-L-U-Q, that's for Queenie, you know. My mother thought I was a little princess. Oh yes, B-O-B-T-A-I-L. Now let me think. Just what was the question again...?"

Angel Face Jones: "I don't know whether a bath will shorten your life or not but a young girl just simply has to keep herself fresh and shiny every day. You never know when romance may beckon. And after all, one lives for the present. Ah me. You wouldn't like to take me to the hoo-down tonight, would you huh? (Interviewer's note: scratch that last sentence.)"

Squire Josphua Snicklebutt: "What a preposterous question. Young man, are you trying to show disrespect for your elders? This younger generation. Hrumph."

Emeline Pansy Grump: "Don't you dare say my children aren't clean. I put them in the wash tub every second Monday with the wash. You just get right out of my house right now and don't dare come around with such tales. I bet that old cat next door sent you here."

Editor's note: Guess that public opinion polls aren't very popular in Hoots in the county of Yawk.

Borrowing For Sidewalks (Huntsville Forester)

The Town of Barrie proposes to build its sidewalks and purchase additional maintenance equipment through the issue of debentures. To which The Examiner replies: "If the Town of Barrie cannot pay its way in a time of prosperity, it will be exceedingly difficult for the municipality to take up the slack if a period of depression comes." What, at an earlier date was considered legitimate expenses to be met by debenture issues, have, in recent years, been regarded as a recognized obligation against current revenues. Municipalities, despite the difficulties in present-day financing, should still confine increases in their bonded debt, to indispensable items beyond the possible reach of current revenue.

OTTAWA LETTER
by
"Jack" Smith, M.P.
North York

The bill introduced in the house to outlaw the communist party has had much consideration, and already some debate. The discussion likely will be lengthy but it seems improbable that the House will adopt the bill. Not that there is any support for communist activities, but I think the majority of members feel that communism cannot be successfully combated by driving it underground. As one speaker said, "I like to have my enemies out in the open where I can see them." Experience in other countries seems to bear out this view. The bill before the House would outlaw the communist party in Canada. It was introduced by a French-speaking Canadian and will get a lot of support from Quebec members.

Oleomargarine

The question of allowing the manufacture and importation of oleomargarine is before the house in the form of a bill introduced by a private member.

Due to the current scarcity of butter this is a very live issue and the subject of no little controversy here and throughout the country. It is a question which merits and is receiving the most careful study. In considering the matter it is well to keep in mind certain important facts. It is said that a principle is involved, which is true, and also to be considered is the application of the principle to the economy of our country.

We must consider the question in the light of conditions obtaining here in Canada. At the present time there is a world shortage of oils and fats, and the world supply is pooled with a quota assigned to each country.

We in Canada, are using our full quota now. If we should decide to take some of our share of the world supply in the form of oleomargarine we would have to reduce our consumption in some other lines and the shortage might be no less distressing than the butter scarcity, which we are assured is temporary. We must consider the importation proposed in the light of our already grave exchange problem and we have to consider the effect on dairymen, one of the great basic industries of the country. The question may not be decided for some time but when it is, I am satisfied the discussion will be the result of most careful study and investigation, and I trust will be in the best interests of all our people.

Members to Visit Toronto

All members of parliament have been invited to visit Toronto this coming weekend and it is expected about 100 will make the trip to Ontario capital. The invitation is extended by the Board of Trade and the purpose is to better acquaint members from all parts of Canada with the industrial growth of the Queen city and as well let them see her harbor facilities and other developments. A dinner will be tendered by the City of Toronto Saturday evening and on Sunday the party will be entertained at the Oakville home of Lieutenant-Governor Lawson.

Livestock Truckers Organize

Under the leadership of the Automotive Transport Association of Ontario, livestock truckers in North York recently organized a local transport association under the presidency of Harry Fry of Aurora. The organization is known as the North York Livestock Transport Association. Directors-elect are: Harry Fry, Aurora; vice-pres., Wm. Tomlinson, Keswick; sec.-treas., J. D. Murrell, Queensville; Cliff Ward and N. Stevenson.

At the organizational meeting in Sharon, Mr. Fry stated that "it is our intention to collect and disseminate information about the operation and improvement of transport services to producers; and to create a prestige valuable in dealing with legislative authorities and the shipping public. In addition," he continued, "we intend to co-operate wholeheartedly with the Ontario Hog Producers Association in the orderly marketing of hogs. Mr. Fry said that by their efforts to improve the quality and quantity of hogs produced on Ontario farms, the Hog Producers Marketing Scheme was a most worthy undertaking and deserved the support of all truckers. The A.T.A. was represented at the meeting by J. R. McLeod, secretary of the livestock transport division. Mr. McLeod in his concluding remarks declared that "nothing must be allowed to interfere with your rendering the best possible service to farmers. Carriers must co-operate with one another," he insisted, "to ensure that stock, especially hogs, is picked up promptly on the days specified for shipment. The farmer must not be left in the position of having to hold his stock over with a resultant loss in his marketing return."

The A.T.A. representative, while denouncing the widespread incidence of illegal hauling on the part of so-called "bootleg" truckers, stated that many P.C.V. licensed carriers were responsible in some measure for this condition. "If," he added, "all licensed carriers throughout the province were more conscious of the value of organization and co-operation in their local operations, the transport industry would achieve a much greater stability than it possesses to-

ON THE SKI TRAILS

A delegation from Newmarket Ski club went to Falloon Lodge near Huntsville last weekend to attend the annual spring meeting of the Southern Ontario Ski Zone of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association (CASA for short). Since our club is now part of Casa, this meeting was of great interest and importance to it.

Next winter candidates of Newmarket Ski club will be allowed to attend the Casa ski school at Collingwood with the object of training instructors for the local ski clubs in southern Ontario. Also it is hoped to send Newmarket Ski club members to Toronto to take the Canadian Ski Patrol System course. This consists of intensive training in Red Cross regular first aid, Red Cross winter specialty and skiing ability. Already the Newmarket Ski Patrol has passed its senior Saint John's Ambulance and have a stretcher and first aid equipment at the club house available for use.

Nert year, instead of the conventional ribbons (which get awfully dirty), the club will have ski pins. If plans work out we may be lucky enough to have a ski tow at Glenville this winter.

Armored Column

It was a big day for the Queen's York Rangers' 25th Armored Regiment on Sunday, April 11, when headquarters, "A" and "B" Squadrons of Toronto and "C" Squadron of Aurora, drove up to Camp Borden to see the Royal Canadian Armored Corps Training School. A total of 24 members of "C" Squadron and two cadets of the Aurora high school, thoroughly enjoyed the whole program. The day was spent in divided periods of wireless, driving and maintenance, gunnery and the Tank Museum. Officers and N.C.O.'s giving instructions and briefings in the courses were from the staff of instructors at the school.

Upon arriving at the camp, Capt. Mann of the R.C.D.'s received the regiment at the training school headquarters. Then, proceeding to the wireless wing of the school, Major Guen of the R.C.C.S. and two sergeants gave instructions on how wireless is taught to the student upon posting to the wireless wing. Equipment on display were the Nos. 58, 19 and 29 wireless sets, battery charging motors, and field telephones. The most interesting subjects were the No. 29 wireless set and the field telephone. At the conclusion of the last lecture, the officers, N.C.O.'s and men were introduced to their respective messes for dinner.

After dinner and a short rest, the regiment proceeded to the D. & M. wing, where Capt. Owen of the R.C.D.'s and a staff sergeant took over for briefings of the Sherman M4 and the Stuart tanks. On display were cut-away tanks, showing all the working mechanical parts of the tank. Everyone was interested in seeing the hydraulic transmission of the Stuart tank in a cut-away display, and the explanation of how it works which followed. This is the same transmission used by the present automobile firms who distribute the automatic gearshift cars.

In the gunnery wing, Major Usher of the L.S.H. and Lieut. McKinnon, M.C., of the B.R.C. Regiment, were in charge. Every weapon known and used in tanks was in separate class rooms for instructional purposes. Among these were the 76 mm. gun, 30 Browning m.g., 50 cal. m.g., sighting equipment and other mechanical devices used in levelling and traversing the gun and turret. Wooden models were also used to explain the breech-block and recoil action of the Browning m.g. Then in the sighting building were cut-away turrets and miniature landscapes used to help the student get used to the turret equipment.

For those who have not seen any other tank except the Sherman M4 tank which the Aurora squadron has, the Tank Museum is the place for "seeing is believing." Capt. Selkirk of the L.S.H. explained the good and bad sides of all the tanks in the building. Everyone was interested in seeing an enemy tank, the German Panther, sitting harmlessly in the centre of the floor with all its battle markings. The instructor pointed out that there is no flat surfaces on the turret and that it is made of heavy cast with extra armor plating at the front.

Just about 4:30 p.m. everyone began to feel weak from hunger, so the school's orderly led the group back to the mess and supper was served. After a short rest and a chat with members of the active force, the 25th Armored Regiment, Queen's York Rangers, were homeward bound.

On Tuesday, the regular parade was held and some 25 members turned out for roll call. Sgt. Starkey and Cpl. Raeside took charge of the gunnery class and stripping and cleaning of the Browning m.g. and the rifle was the lesson. Sgt. Judd instructed in wireless procedure and Sgt. Waite assisted by Sgt. Judd lectured on ignition systems of cars, trucks and tanks.

Headed by the Aurora High School cadet band under Bandmaster Don Watson the "C" Squadron and two troops of cadets under Cadet Lieut. Col. Van Nostrand paraded around Aurora. Major C. W. Kessick, second-in-command of the regiment, and Major N. F. Johnson took the salute. Major J. W. Westhead was parade commander and Capt. C. H. McGinnis was parade adjutant. Following the parade, there was a film, "Westward Lies Bataan," shown at the armories.

Garden Tips
Prepared by A. A. Reinke

As an introduction to our new column, we have prepared a table of when and how to prune with the best time to do it. Listed below in the order of their appearance is the name of the shrub, best time to prune, how to prune, and a few remarks for your guidance.

Barberry, March-April, cut out an old cane occasionally, pruning can be done in early summer; bridal wreath, May, cut out oldest canes that are very twiggy, after the flowers fade is best time to prune; clematis, March-April, cut out all branches that are not strong, retain as much old wood as possible;

Deutzia, June-July, very sparingly cut out dead wood; dogwood, May-June, take out dead wood, pruning should follow flowering; elderberry, April, cut back one-half the season's growth, pruning should follow the fruiting, and should be rather severe to induce a strong new growth; honeysuckle, March-April, take out oldest canes to open out the plant, to thin out in the fall is also a wise plan; ivy, Boston, March-April, very little and only to trim vine, take down dead vines from walls; ivy, English, March-April, only as necessary to thin out, lilac, March-July, an old cane full of borers and covered with scale can be cut out, cut the flower clusters off after they fade. Remove surplus suckers; mock orange, July, cut out dead wood, should be thinned after flowering; rose, hybrid tea, April, cut out all dead wood and back to four eyes on the last year's growth, prune when swelling of the leaf buds starts; spiraea thunbergi, May, thin out the old twiggiest canes, pruning should follow flowering; weigela, June-July, prune lightly, cut only enough to remove dead wood and straggly branches.

Note: Excepting for raspberry the fruits call for March pruning. However, if not too heavily pruned this could be done before April 30.

Apple, March, trim for low-headed trees, pruning should be moderate; blackberry, March, cut to the ground the canes that fruited last year, in summer new shoots over 3 1/2 feet high, should be pinched off; currant, March, cut out oldest wood, a succession of strong young shoots should be maintained; gooseberry, March, prune side shoots to 2 eyes, grape, March, prune heavily to get new fruit-bearing wood, vines on trellises or wires should be kept thinned to form strong canes. Encourage new growth from base; pear, March, cut out dead wood, pruning should be very moderate; plum, March, needs little pruning except in the case of Japanese varieties, pruning, when the trees are young, should be only enough to

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

COMMUNITY HEALTH

The prevailing weather at present being rain and more rain, it is needless to say that on the morning of Wednesday, April 14, it lived well up to its standard, in fact, we people who braved it to go to the Vandorf hall on Institute business rather thought it excellent itself. However, Mrs. Legge, Mrs. Hunt and I, being taken skillfully over a road by Harry Legge, where pit-falls lurked at every roll of the wheels, didn't mind greatly, and being safely landed in the warm hall, we soon forgot out-of-doors discomfort in the interest of the forum conducted by Miss Hamilton, who said she was a talker, not a speaker, and the more questions asked, the better she would be pleased.

Four Institutes, Vandorf, Gormley, Pine Orchard and Bogartown, were represented—not, alas, by very large representations, which was a pity in view of the interest of the subject and the impossibility on my part of reproducing all the questions and answers. Miss Hamilton said a community had common rights, privileges and interests, and health, which is the quality of life that renders each individual fit to serve best and live most abundantly. Community life begins with the individual, and it is up to each to keep fit—and if ill—not to pass it on to others. Children should never go to school if they show the least signs of illness. They may throw off the indisposition which affects them but may, in the meantime communicate it to others. Too often it is selfishness on the part of the parents which sends a child, not perfectly well, to school.

Protective measures, immunization and hospitalization, should be a part of every community's life. Lack of illness in one's own home should not make one indifferent to the suffering of others. Co-operation for health begins in the home; it is everybody's business. As well as individual and community health, there are healthy and unhealthy nations. Illness in these lowers production and so affects the nation through the individual, for a nation's health is the nation's wealth.

SHOES

Insley's store has hundreds of pairs of shoes for men and boys. No wonder Insley's style leader store has such a shoe business year after year! This store is properly merchandised and priced correctly.

A child that is not well will never contribute to the nation's well being and it's up to the family to co-operate in every effort put forth by the government to insure the safety of the child, mentally, morally and physically, for the last analysis it will only benefit to the extent that the home will permit and the family allow. Health is international as well as individual, community and national, for through modern means of transportation, all nations are drawn closely together and just as no man can live to himself, neither can any nation.

In short, civilization is a state where you can't hurt or help yourself without hurting or helping someone else. Inertia on the part of individuals slows down any program for the health, recreation and education of a community.

If people want happiness—and who doesn't—they should work for everything which contributes to health, for it is one of the chief sources of happiness. Mental health, and that of infancy, youth, maturity and old age, is the responsibility of everybody. Canada stands fifth in national maternal safety—not high enough. Every expectant mother should have expert medical care and it should be accessible to all. Sex education and pre-marital examinations are increasing, thus helping to eliminate venereal disease and inculcating of high moral standards in children.

Community centres should be made interesting for youth. Our health services are not so good as they should be and this is a criticism of the public apathy and indifference. Bottle feeding is blamed for a great deal of infant mortality. This has been proved, said Miss Hamilton, by experiment. Immunization is doing a wonderful work in stamping out communicable disease. Toxoid for diphtheria, vaccine for whooping cough, vaccination for smallpox, and protective measures against scarlet fever, this last not quite perfect but a great help. Immunization from measles is yet in the experimental stage. Miss Hamilton says a child should never be carelessly exposed to any infection; don't say "he may as well have it now," better not to have it at all as many weaknesses in later life can be traced to scarlet fever or measles. I forgot to mention among the other preventative measures the anti-tetanus serum and this should be always sought after an accident where the skin is punctured and dirt may have penetrated.

Ontario is the only province where the pasteurization of milk is compulsory and pasteurization is a grand thing for although milk is the best individual food, it can, without pasteurization, be a deadly thing. Parents should watch children closely for pains as "growing pains." There are no such things but these pains may be warnings that that deadly killer, rheumatic fever, is on the loose.

Clothing and nutrition and watchful care are the only safeguards against rheumatic fever

Homemakers' Exchange

Rhubarb from our gardens will be even more welcome this spring than in past years due to the high prices of imported fresh fruit. Plan to serve it often. Delicious rhubarb pie or dumplings will bring those welcome words of praise from the family.

RHUBARB PIE

3 Cups rhubarb, cut in one-inch pieces
¾ Cup white sugar
¼ Tsp. salt
1 Tsp. butter
Dash of nutmeg
1 Recipe plain pastry

Combine all ingredients and place in shallow nine-inch pastry lined pie pan. Dot with butter. Adjust top crust. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes until rhubarb is tender and crust a golden brown.

RHUBARB DUMPLINGS

3 Cups rhubarb, diced
2/3 Cup white sugar
Dash of salt and cinnamon
¾ Cup cold water
¾ Cup brown sugar
1 Tsp. melted butter
1½ Cups all-purpose flour
¼ Tsp. salt
3 Tsp. baking powder
¼ Cup shortening

Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in the shortening. Add the milk all at once. Stir quickly. Turn the batter on a floured board and knead lightly. Roll the batter very thin and cut in five-inch squares. In the centre of each, pile a mixture of the rhubarb, white sugar, salt and cinnamon. Fold over; place in an oiled casserole. Cover with a mixture of cold water and brown sugar. Cover and bake one-half hour in moderate oven (350 degrees). Take off lid and brush with melted butter. Let brown for remaining 15 minutes. Serves five.

RHUBARB SAUCE

3 Cups rhubarb, cut in one-inch pieces
1 Cup sugar
Very small amount of water depending on tightness of cover.
Cook slowly about 25 minutes.

Guest cook of the week is Mrs. L. H. Bovair who sends the following recipe:

FUDGE CAKE

4 Tsp. cocoa
1 Cup brown sugar

and polio-myelitis—that and consulting your physician quickly. For tuberculosis and cancer the best safeguards are periodic medical examinations and x-rays. Miss Hamilton stressed that neither of these diseases was hereditary.

In conclusion she said that we should put much into living—live largely. We should be thankful to all who have contributed to the health of the home, community and the nation. The greatest community, concluded Miss Hamilton, is where each is for all and all for each.

The Community Health course was held at Vandorf Hall on Wednesday, April 14. In spite of inclement weather and bad roads, the W.I. ladies from Boggartown, Gormley, Vandorf and Pine Orchard were amply repaid for attending. Miss Grace Hamilton of the home economics and health branch of the department of agriculture certainly was up-to-date on health information. Her listeners were very grateful for the course and hope to have Miss Hamilton come again. The course was filled with valuable information and clearly pointed out our duty to our community in regard to health.

Mrs. B. Dike, Mrs. Edson Johnston and Mrs. R. Armitage were present.

Rev. N. Rowan spoke on "The Marriage Supper," as portrayed in Matthew 22. The message was most helpful and interesting. The girls' trio, Beth Johnson, Barbara Shropshire and Miriam Boake, sang sweetly, "The Lord is My Shepherd."

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Julia is a 14-year-old teen-ager whose curiosity about sex has led her to smuggle trashy books to her room and read them secretly. Julia's parents have always been careful about their choice of movies for Julia and continue to ban "Adult Entertainment" features. Besides, she has never been alone on a date or even at parties without proper chaperonage. However, the books she has been reading have been filling her mind with the worst kind of trash.

The books discovered in Julia's room were of two varieties—one group was cheap and nasty while the other set was dripping with dramatic glamor. All the books were nauseating except to the moronic adult or impressionable youth—who enjoys sensations of morbidity, thrills and heartthrobs. These books are harmful in that they serve to arouse fears, doubts or further unhealthy curiosity.

Julia's mother is right in not condemning Julia for hiding the books. By calmly producing she found them and then admitting an accredited volume on the same subject, her mother will be establishing a bond between them. Some such simple statement as: "I didn't know you were interested, but here's a book I've found helpful," will give Julia a new respect for her mother and a healthier outlook on life generally. To learn the truth without destroying the beauty of sexual relationship is of utmost importance.

There are many, many, many interesting and worthwhile books on every variety of subject. Tastes in good reading can and should be developed early in order to accumulate the maximum wealth of joy and knowledge. What a pity to waste hours of reading time on pure drivel!

Youth's natural appetite for sexual knowledge should definitely be satisfied. There are educational books written on the subject. These should be easily accessible for reference when questions arise. Parents and teachers shouldn't shirk their responsibility to help their children better understand life about them. Since successful and happy marriages are dependent to a great degree on satisfactory sexual relationships, it is vitally important that a proper understanding of sex and a recognition of its importance be reached by young people.

W.C.T.U. Hears Convention Reports

Newmarket — The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Hooker and Mrs. M. Eade, vice president, in the chair. Mrs. A. Winn, the president, was welcomed back after a lengthy absence. In the absence of Mrs. E. Morton, the secretary gave the devotional exercises, reading Is. 40: 31. "The great fact in the nature of man is the wings of his spirit!"

Mrs. J. A. Maitland gave a fine report of the Ontario Temperance Federation convention which she attended recently. She read excerpts from the reports of Dr. Muchmore and Dr. Kirkconnell as follows: "The Canadian liquor business is a monopoly and the Canadian electorate in itself is to blame. Canada is rapidly becoming an alcohol nation. She consumes 70 percent as much beer as Great Britain, 25 percent more wine than Great Britain and Canada drinks nearly as much spirits as Great Britain. Canadians spend more money in beer, wine and spirits than on the purchase and operation of all motor vehicles. Again booze expenditures are equivalent to the total Canadian purchases of home furnishings."

The hostess served a lovely lunch and a social time was spent.

Barbara And Margaret Prefer 'Ann' Without 'E'

Ten-year-old Margaret Ann Edgar, formerly of Newmarket, is an admirer of Barbara Ann Scott so she was taken to Schumacher to see her skate in the Porcupine Skating Club carnival recently.

Margaret Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Edgar and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Court St., Newmarket. After the show, Barbara Ann Scott talked to her and signed her program enquiring how she spelled her middle name. She agreed that Ann without an "e" was best.

GEO. F. ATKINSON WED IN SASK.

Miss Doris G. Hamilton of Bienfait and George F. Atkinson, formerly of Newmarket, were the principals in a wedding ceremony performed at Frobiisher, Sask., on Wednesday, April 14, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Herb Moffat. The Rev. W. J. Graham officiated. The bride is the daughter of James Hamilton and the late Mrs. Hamilton of Alameda and the groom is a son of Peter A. Atkinson and the late Mrs. Atkinson of Sask.

The ceremony was held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Attending the bride and groom were Miss Jean Hamilton of Bourmaque, Que., and Mr. Elmer LaFrenz of Bienfait.

For the ceremony the bride wore a gown of white nylon sheer over tulle. It had a sweetheart neckline and a floor-length veil. She carried a large bouquet of American Beauty roses.

A reception followed the wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Moffat at Frobiisher. There were 23 guests present. Those from out-of-town included Miss Marguerite Hamilton of Toronto, Miss Jean Hamilton of Bourmaque, Que., Miss Ruby Johnson and Ralph Johnson of Estevan, Mrs. Eli Johnson, Miss Finstad of Hirsch, and Glenn Henderson of Hirsch.

House decorations for the occasion were pink and white streamers, and white bells. The bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake banked by tall tapers. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson will reside at Bienfait.

Hi-Lights of N.H.S.

By ELAINE ROBINSON

Last Thursday morning grade 9D put on the weekly assembly. The pupils of the class acted out a one-act skit which was enjoyed by the students of the school. The students of the form had planned to have a film to show but they were unable to obtain it. Instead of this film, Lorna Miller played the piano for a sing-song. We suppose the students weren't in good singing voice so early in the morning as they didn't sing at all. The music was enjoyed anyway. Edward Riddell favored us with a selection on the piano which also was enjoyed immensely by the students.

Air Cadets

The boys are once more getting ready for a parade to be held here Wednesday afternoon. This I'm sure the boys will appreciate. We haven't seen much of our cadets this year so this will be a time when they can show off to their fellow students. We'll be looking forward to it.

Our report cards are once more making the rounds with the teachers and if you haven't already received them, any day now will bring them to you. Whether or not you want them, you are sure to get them.

It must be the spring that is making everyone so lazy. If we can count on this it will explain why things are so dull at Newmarket high this week.

COUPLE WILL LIVE IN SHARON

Wedding took place at Queensville United church on April 3 of Marion Sandra, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Castle, Queensville, to Harold George Stickwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stickwood, Sharon. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Jim Castle, Aurora. She wore a gown of white slipper satin made on princess lines with long sleeves coming to a point, short train and peplum of satin edged with lace. Finger-tip veil of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of red briar roses, sweet peas and maidenhair fern with streamers of white ribbon.

Her bridesmaid was a sister, Edna, gowned in pink satin with overskirt of net, matching head-dress and gloves. Her bouquet was pink roses, sweetpeas and maidenhair fern. Matron of honor was Norma Pegg gowned in pink sheer with overskirt of sheer with gloves and head-dress and veil to match and carrying a bouquet of pink roses, sweetpeas and maidenhair fern. The two flower girls were, cousin of the bride, Barbara Andross, Midhurst, wearing long gown of pale blue muslin with ladders' pink knots, gloves and head-dress to match, and Marilyn Keats, her niece, wearing a long gown of pale blue silk with poke bonnet and gloves to match. They carried bouquets of pink roses, sweetpeas and forget-me-nots.

Best man was the groom's brother, Ross. The ushers were John Stickwood and Don Mitchell.

The reception was held in the basement of the church where the groom's mother received the guests in a gown of printed silk jersey with black accessories and corsage of carnations. Mrs. Mitchell, receiving for the bride, wore a suit of grey with acc-

DOWN THE CENTRE

With AB HULSE

John Stuart has 15 horses or more quartered at Woodbine with Polo Ireland in charge. Cindy Lou, Comfortable, Paris Mars and La Petite who have been campaigning in the south are the most advanced. The Plate candidate, Dark Colores, a brown filly, is reported in good shape and rated in books in the "dark horse" class. This one will at least run in the Plate trials. Chief interest centres, however, upon the steel-chasers and two-year-olds, Bunty Line and Rail Strike. Both are entered in the big two-year-old event and are Plate candidates for 1949.

Bunty Line, from whom great things are expected, is a Bunty Lawless-Crinoline offspring while Rail Strike has good bloodlines from Kanuck and Carisbrook. Already nominated for the 1950 King's Plate are Lord Valentine and Seven Duke, so that Mr. Stuart is leaving no stone unturned to improve his stables. It is noted that Dark Colores made seven starts last year, finishing first once, third once and out of the money the rest of the time.

George Haskett, 'tis said, will not be handling Newmarket junior baseballers this year. George is said to be figuring on doing a spot of umpiring and giving sports in canal town full coverage in the press. Don't be surprised, however, if the balmy breezes change his mind. Those arguments with Yorky Smith were with a full admission charge last year and with both teams practically intact for the 1948 season, they promise to be bigger and better.

Joe Bunch, manager of New Toronto Legion ball club which eliminated Newmarket Vets two years in a row, is the inventor of a set of rubber bases which will be tried out this year. Joe says they're safer for base runners, keep their shape and wear better. We'll watch the experiment with interest. Bill Boychoff has decided to try out next winter with Barrie Flyers in place of Guelph Balmores. Boychoff will be closer to home and will, of course, be accompanying his teammates, Jack Andrews and Ron Simmons. Aurora softballers will gain a valuable addition in Boychoff this year for the burly Bill was one of the leading outfielders in the South Simcoe circuit.

Mickey Sutton, who played a bang up game for Aurora at the red light corner in softball last summer, intends to continue his softball if possible, despite the loss of an eye through an industrial accident. In practice he looks good as ever and it only remains to be seen if his heavy hitting will be affected. Gerry Simmons, promising young all-round athlete at Aurora high, is being readied by Frank Gregoire for a trip to Toronto in the summer and competition against Canada's best discus tossers. Young Simmons broke the North York interscholastic record last year in the junior section and has consistently tossed the big platter further than any other athlete in years.

Charlie Holmes, former Newmarket sports enthusiast, is a proud man these days. Did you notice that Charlie's Hamilton Wildcats have been admitted to the big four football union and have now taken over the football mantle worn for years by the mighty Tigers? Charlie and his associates, after battling for years against big odds, have brought their organization to the top of the heap. Did you ever see Chart backing a loser?

Sutton Greenishirts must have set some kind of a record in winning the O.R.H.A. senior title against Tavistock. Sutton has only had two rural entries, being in O.H.A. the other years, and in both tries they have come up with a winner, and as Leon Smith and the boys up north say "that's perfect". Orchids to the happy warriors and coach Ken Davie. Here are the braves who carried the Greenishirts to victory and the George Henry trophy: Bob Winn, Ken Davie, Tom Hare, Huskinson, Roger O'Dell, Griffiths, "Ponce", Brady, Anderson, Bob Dunn, George Lamont, George Holborn, "Hood" Burrows. Only the last four named were members of the team two years ago. In retirement are Leon Smith, Bud and Ivan Gilbey, who played briefly for Orillia this winter, Rex Sedore, Carse Fairbairn, Snodden, who played for Oakville Army this year, Skippy Taylor with Victoria Square, Fred Taylor, Dick Pearson, Gus Noble. Quite a change in playing personnel for a small centre in two years. Griffiths, O'Dell and Davie played intermediate O.H.A. last year while Brady is a veteran Sutton favorite. The others are from the Roche's Point area and Winn is still young enough for juvenile. The Sutton team closed off their season Saturday at Waterloo as they bested Breshan, winners of the intermediate series, taking 16-15 in the round for the Mitchell Hepburn trophy.

Aurora Flyers will end the season with a banquet and dance and new windbreakers plus a few extra greenbacks for the wallets within a few weeks. Tommy Brodie, left winger of the Flyers, middle-aged it April 10 with Miss Dorothy Evelyn Mater. We extend best wishes on behalf of the sporting fraternity.

Harold Rogers, box 1, Aurora, is accepting entries for the North Yonge softball league and he's anxious to hear from both men's and ladies' teams. If necessary the league will be graded according to size of municipality and roster of players, if sufficient entries are secured. Better act now, as secretary Rogers and proxy Doug May will be calling a general meeting in the near future. Umpires who desire to work in the circuit are requested to file their applications too. Regular assignments around the circuit, standard rates of remuneration and the rotation system are points that will be considered by the executive. Present plans call for an open series this year which will enable clubs to add to their roster by way of imports. Your prompt reply to Mr. Rogers will get the plans into the open that much sooner. It is expected that Unionville, Thornhill and Bradford will be new entries in the league.

Ladies' Softball

The gals are organized for the 1948 softball season. The Newmarket Ladies' Softball Club put their plans in working order at a meeting last Thursday. Last year's slate of officers were returned by acclamation. Orval Hisey will once again be top man with Victor Giovannelli his running mate. Miss Annie Kmet was returned as secretary-treasurer. Frank Courtney will continue as manager with Charlie VanZant back in the coaching role. Don't think for a minute that "The New Look" will be overlooked. Plans are underway to purchase new uniforms. The 1948 uniform will likely be red in color. The treasurer brought down a very fine report showing a balance of around $200 on hand and the club will hold a dance Friday to raise the balance required for the ball suits. First practice sessions are due any night now. Regarding league play, Manager Courtney has been in touch with Barrie and is hopeful of landing a berth in the Barrie league.

The newly-formed lacrosse club had a flock of talent out to the initial work-out over the weekend. Coach Charlie Harman was agreeably surprised by the 40 to 50 on hand to give the gutted stick game a whirl. Certainly, it was pleasing to see the number of junior age players on deck. If you can get these lads out early and often lacrosse is due for a comeback. There were quite a number of old time players (Pass that liniment, please), headed by Coach Harman, "Shorty" Turan, "Dinty" Moore, Harry Standeven and a good prospect in Ernie James from Bradford making a come back. The executive hasn't been idle either, President Charlie Rowntree of the boxla league to the south composed of Richmond Hill, Maple, Woodbridge and Inglewood has promised to give a shout when this league is organized and Newmarket will be represented. Word on this is expected this week or next.

This league, by the way, is Intermediate B and the teams play a good brand of lacrosse and will give the locals some tough opposition. Junior Softball League The scheme to put the 10 to 16-year-olds into a junior softball league is rapidly taking shape. The Boy Scouts will enter three teams, the Trail Rangers one, and three others are due from the public and high school lower grades. The Scout teams will be captained by Donald Brice, Doug Cockburn and Stan Pollard. The Trail Rangers will have Harry Nellis and Wilbur Henry as leaders, while Ross Gohene, Reg. Campbell and "Cecgar" McDonald will coach the school squads. This will make a seven-team grouping. There are possibly enough players to form another team but a leader must be found. Jim Walker will be pleased to hear from anyone interested in taking on the other club. The league will get underway in the very near future and could certainly develop some fine prospects for future softball clubs. List of teams and coaches will appear next week, also schedule of games.

As part of their 1948 program, Newmarket Tennis club will put on a strong campaign to increase their junior membership. The club is hopeful of being able to announce concrete plans in this respect next week. Tuesday evening the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. Jack Peppiatt was elected president; Charles McLeod, first vice-president; Joan Peppiatt, second vice-president; Joyce Bothwell, secretary; Mike McCaffrey, treasurer. Honorary presidents are: Bert Morrison, Doctor Bartholomew, N. L. Mathews and Miss Beatrice Lyons.

Incidentally the junior age is from 16 and under and the plan now under consideration will give a boost and promote the game among the junior members. More on this later. The club will have tournament play with Aurora, Richmond Hill and Mount Albert as well as several open tournaments during the summer. Baseball will get the once over next week.

DOWN THE ALLEYS

Anglers Demonstrate Casting Niceties

Newmarket — A fairly good crowd, for a cold night, attended the first of a series of fishermen's nights sponsored by the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion at the arena on Friday night.

Members of the Toronto Anglers' and Hunters' Association gave demonstrations of precision fly and bait casting and Ted Roberts of the association gave an instructive commentary. The demonstrators used standard equipment and according to Mr. Roberts they used principles that any fisherman could use with his standard equipment.

Hank McQueen, Norm Telford, Charles Owen, Ross Jarvis and Johnny McGee, who demonstrated accurate casting, are all prominent casters in the Toronto club and have won awards in casting tournaments. They stood about 40' from the target, a short, awkward distance for them, and dropped the bait or fly on the target nearly every time. The target was about the size of a manhole cover.

Any fisherman would get some valuable tips and information on how to hold a rod, palm down, thumb controlling reel on the left and how to control and drop his bait or fly where he wants it. Anyone who is not a fisherman would find enjoyment in watching the spectacular casting. The most spectacular demonstration was in fly casting.

The Toronto Anglers' and Hunters' Association is primarily a conservation club but has developed a high standard in casting competitions. The fishing talks continue for three more Fridays in the arena at 8:15 p.m. All fishermen are welcome and there is no charge.

As a close-out to the hockey season, we present our annual all-star summaries. The business of picking the stand-out players is always a highly debatable project, as some selectors use the whole season as a basis and others pick the tail end or some particular bright spot. The merits and demerits of making all-star choices had best be left alone. Suffice to say we merely desire to keep unbroken our record in this regard. Judging by the number of inquiries from players and fans there is still quite a bit of interest existing in the critics' "cherries".

Junior Jamboree this year saw perhaps the most unequal competition in many years. In mid-season Victoria Square-Stouffville were elevated to B rating by the O.H.A. That left the other three in C competition and Aurora Flyers, on the basis of that rating, was the only team to qualify as they outdistanced Unionville and Newmarket. The regulations wouldn't permit the latter two to rate as D. Under these circumstances we decided to have two classifications: one including Stouffville and "one without. As might be expected Stouffville and Aurora players are bound to dominate the selections. The pickers include Leonard Simmons, Aurora, George Haskett, Newmarket, a non-resident of either town who wishes to remain completely anonymous and yours truly. Only one liberty has been taken in the summary. Jack Andrews, Aurora, was picked somewhere along the line by my three colleagues and as "Long Jawn" played both forward and defence over the year and was handicapped by injuries in the early part, we have awarded him a first team utility role. Bill Boychoff, Aurora, has, of course, suffered by public choice by shifting positions. Hardest spot to fill was centre where Ron Simmons, Aurora, and Polly Minton, Stouffville, vied for honors. Over the year Simmons outscored Minton and he never turned in a poor performance whereas Minton faded at the end of the year. Keith Jewitt was rated as the outstanding junior player of the group with Ken Broughton, Newmarket, next in line. Using two netminders made it hard on the Stouffville goalies as Norm Stenden and Dougie Moore were close as two peas in a pod for ability.

OPEN JUNIOR SECTION
First Team: Eric Smith (Aurora), Goal; Mac Clement (Stouffville), Defence; Loring Doolittle (Aurora), Defence; Ron Simmons (Aurora), Centre; Keith Jewitt (Stouffville), R. Wing; Ken Broughton (Newmarket), L. Wing. Special utility award: Jack Andrews (Aurora). Honorable mention: Tom Brodie, Aurora, Ross McMillan, Stouffville, Doug Moore, Stouffville.

CLOSED JUNIOR SECTION
First Team: Eric Smith (Aurora), Goal; Loring Doolittle (Aurora), Defence; Bob Walker (Newmarket), Defence; Ron Simmons (Aurora), Centre; Bill Boychoff (Aurora), R. Wing; Ken Broughton (Nmk.), L. Wing. Hon. mention: Ross Coole, Unionville, Bill Wilkinson, Aurora, Bill Attridge, Aurora, Frank Joy, Newmarket.

The intermediate series saw senior B and intermediate A and B all playing in one group. It is difficult to judge the players other than as all in one classification. The sports scribes up north picked their teams on this basis and adding George Haskett's selections to those of the northern press we have arrived at a general summary.

Two players were unanimous choices for the first team, Frank "Fat" Swales, burly Penetang defenceman, and Ab Bowen, smooth, Barrie pivot-player. Fred Sparks, the Collingwood netminder, was a choice with all five pickers for either the first or second team. Max Richardson, Barrie defenceman, and Din Scott, veteran left winger of the Barrie team, were four first team choices. From there on the selections really varied and made the poll most difficult. Gordy Bone was the only Newmarket player to catch an

Lawn Bowlers Pursue Sport At 'Miami'

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

It's a fact, but Newmarket can boast one sport that is not played elsewhere across the dominion during the long winter evenings. While most of you guys and gals have been worrying about bucking snow drifts and icy roads, not to mention the wintry winds howling outside, the lawn bowling fraternity have been carrying on their feud indoors. How did they do this? It's all very simple. They pitched a green, known as the Miami Green, on the second floor of the Dixon Pencil Co., courtesy of Jim Law and Frank Courtney.

The green in this case is 85 feet long and nine feet wide. This is no "Johnny-come-recently" project either for the lawn bowlers have been at the winter version of the game for three years. The bowlers use the regulation lawn bowls. In fact the game is an inside replica of the outdoor pastime.

Regular league play is in operation almost nightly at Miami and the bowlers have been going full blast since last November. In the popular doubles play recently wound up, Stan Smith and Ken Bain climbed to take down the honors with Larry Bell and Ernie Wright in the runner-up position. The trophies tournament is now being run off. Thirteen teams are in the midst of their schedule. The trebles teams are skipped by Fred Chantler, Ray Jolley, Larry Bell, Bert Budd, J. O. Little, Stan Smith, Gordon Manning, Doug Brown, Lyman Rose, Charles Willis, Jim Law, Eugene McCaffrey and Tom Doyle. The teams are split into two sections and the winners will meet for the trebles championship at the end of the month.

Jack Luck is president of the club, Jim Law vice-president, and Frank Courtney, secretary-treasurer. Four teams were in action Friday night. The trio skipped by Doug "Banker" Brown with Larry Bell second and Bill Geer lead, after taking an early margin, faded in the final ends to go down 16-5 to the threesome of J. O. Little skip, Bruce Gibson and Horace Cumber.

The second contest of the night proved to be "the feature attraction," as they say on the midway. Jim Law, pinch-hitting for Jack Luck and assisted by The Era and Express duo of Del Gibney and Kester Hugo, rolled up an early and impressive lead. The Rose trebles skipped by Lyman Rose, second Basil McHale, and lead C. "Rexall" Best, put on a powerhouse display to overhaul them and in the final end at that. Law and company were one bowl away from winning. But it was "grand change all" Lyman Rose on his last bowl drove the Law bowl out of the picture to put his own team in for three.

All of which prompts one to say you can't keep a good bowler down, in fact, you can't keep a lawn bowler away from his favorite game, winter or summer, if he sets out to keep the green game alive. The bowlers may possibly face a problem shortly, for there is a possibility of their present location being required by Dixon Pencil. The club is hopeful of getting a bee-line on one of the huts at the army camp. If the plan materializes the bowling forces will be installed in bigger and better quarters than ever.

There are few if any young players on the two teams. Most of the boys are veterans with plenty of experience. Gravenhurst, for instance, had Mac Ogilvie who played for Newmarket juniors in 1933 and Dan McDonald, Sutton, who played with Young Rangers a few years later. Sib Brodeur, Penetang, has been puck-chasing over 22 years. Barrie finished first in the senior section and placed three on the first team. Orillia won the group and placed three on the second team. Penetang won the ordinary intermediate race and placed two on the first team. Collingwood bumped off the Canadians in the play-offs. They placed one on the first team and one on the second.
